

André Sequeira

From Porto to the world with talent and vision.

André is a leader that never forgot how to be a team person. His easygoing character and result oriented mindset helped him build an interesting path. He has made a rising career in Finances across construction, public transports and the residues sectors. Having worked in Angola, Poland, Slovakia and Portugal, André is able to adapt his team management skills to different multicultural environments. Mindful of his work impact in the life quality of people and cities, André appreciates the results of his work in the small details.

Aware of his established reputation as a trustworthy asset, he would like to be recognized by who he is and not only what he has achieved. Compromised with his work and team, he translates a can-do attitude into did-do. In his little spare time he enjoys playing with his son and spending time with his family. If he could ask three wishes he would ask for happiness, health for him and his family and more time together. Compromise is an important quality, maybe that is why Braveheart is his favourite movie.
