Experience more by learning.

From an early age, Nelson showed an above average talent for numbers and learning. His career started in the Investment and Corporate Banking area and step by step he became a success. He decided to take a risk to invest in an IT company which translated into the greatest achievement of his professional life: making it all the way to the national stock market (PSI20). Nelson felt he needed to stabilize his family life and accepted the invitation to coordinate the financial area of Metro Porto to, a few years later, emigrate to Ghana. The man, whose nickname is 'the bulldozer' from his strength to meet goals - is determined to continue to work on the legacy he will leave to his son.
