

Patrícia Santos

Creating a better everyday life for many.

Patrícia could have followed a career in Law, but it was in Human Resources that she found her calling. Without surprise for those who know her, Patrícia is clearly a people-oriented person. She finds motivation when she is close to people and enjoys energetic and dynamic environments. Some hard life lessons have taught her how important it is to enjoy life and make the most of each moment. Thus, Patrícia balances her thriving and ambitious career between her love for the outdoors and spending time with family and friends. It wasn't always like this, Patrícia is a self-confessed recovering workaholic. Now Patrícia has returned to focus on new learning because, having reached a high point, she felt the need to go back to a place where she could receive new inputs. She hopes to use her positive energy to inspire people to give their life's best, just as she does.
