

Tiago Monteiro

The world is not enough.

Graduated in Marketing and postgraduate in Information Management and Marketing Intelligence, Tiago is a true citizen of the world. He studied in the Czech Republic and Brazil, did an internship in Slovenia and worked in Mozambique and Angola. He feels like he is living the greatest period in his professional life as he is being recognized by CBRE, a world class real estate company which also manages shopping centres all over the world. Called 'cool hunter' by his peers, Tiago loves to learn and share something new every day. Feel the freedom to create and make the work environment a better place for his colleagues are some of his inspiring routines.

Tiago likes to keep active and value the healthy side of life. Tiago is an information consumer and a social media enthusiast with his own blog and Instagram project. But the mind that travels online does not forget where he came from. This is why going back to his parent's yard, with his agriculture projects, is one of his favourite moments. When you have a home, you do not travel to wander, you travel to learn more and come back home.
